

Credit Recovery English II

The purpose of this course is to allow students who have previously failed English II to gain mastery of course concepts. English II is a survey of world literature. Students read, discuss, analyze, and write about both classical and contemporary world literature including novels, short stories, drama, prose, and poetry. Students continue to explore language for expressive, informational, explanatory, critical, argumentative, and literary purposes, although emphasis is placed on informational contexts in preparation for the North Carolina Writing Test. Students also concentrate on enlarging vocabulary, refining grammatical skills, honing technology skills, improving comprehension, developing study skills, and widening personal reading. Students will pre-assess at the beginning of each unit to determine their course work path.
